

Dear Fellow Degenerates --
We're online!

Hello, and welcome to the first edition of the Gazebo Degenerate Newsletter. I am your host, Melanie Bickley, and I have WAY too much time on my hands right now since I have a student teacher. So you can look forward to news, tidbits, and other meaningless stuff from me since I am basically getting paid right now to do absolutely NOTHING (just kidding, I'm very, very, VERY hard at work -- wink, wink)!

So anyways, the most recent Super Bowl party was a rousing success, and, as usual, to use Jim's words "there was more food than God". I'm sure that we'll have lots of leftovers for this week. Thanks for the Shrimp Bisque Paul -- it was out of this world!

Speaking of Friday, Mel and Kevin will be coming, but we'll be a little later than usual as Kevin's mom and bro are in town and we'll be going out to dinner. We're going to come over afterwards with the whole fam. We were signed up for main course this Friday, but I was wondering if someone would be willing to switch. I can do next weekend or any other weekend. Let me know.

This week look forward to the master address and phone number list. Again, I have way too much time on my hands.

UPCOMING EVENTS --

Jodi's birthday -- February 12

Valentine's Day -- February 14 (Subliminal message -- JEWELRY!!!!) TAILS

dance -- February 21, 7pm Paul's birthday -- February 27

Signing off,
your ever faithful GD
Mel