

Howdy there y'all! It's once again the moment you all look forward to -- well, except for Friday anyways.

Last week was pretty mellow and I know I, for one, was quite thankful. Sorry we missed the birthday boy Paul, but I'm sure that he had a great day.

Thanks Keith for the awesome spaghetti -- everyone thought it was superb.

This Friday I plan on bringing taco meat, beans, and shells (hard and soft). If everyone could bring their favorite fixings that would be awesome. That way we can satisfy those people who can't eat meat -- like you Catholics should be partying on a Friday anyways...

UPCOMING EVENTS:

St. Patty's Day -- March 17th

Tracie and Brenna's Birthdays -- March 21st.

Jack and Mindy -- I need your birthdays to add to the master list!

Hope you guys have a good (and speedy) week. See you on Friday!

xxoo
