

Oh My Gosh. How crowded was it on Friday night?!? It was soooo loud, and a full house to boot! Again, Jim, you really need to think about adding on! Oh wait, you already did that.

Vince, thanks for pulling your pork for us. It was tasty.

Supposedly the website is going online soon, so if you have any other ideas besides what was brought up on Friday please let Jim or Carole know ASAP. And no Jim, we really don't want a live action cam throughout the week. LA LA LA.

Ok, this week is big folks. We've got St. Patty's Day on Wed (I think someone's doing corned beef this weekend, right?) and then Tracie and Brenna both have a birthday on Sunday. Happy birthday to yooooouuuuu (it's really too bad that you're not all here in my office while I'm singing away, it's just beautiful).

Kevin and I won't be attending the festivities on Friday (at least not until later) so you guys pour some out for us, ok?

See y'all later!

Mel
